To Whom It May Concern,

it is with great enthusiasm that I recommend Ons Bahrouni for your program. As Ons' mentor at Metafinanz, I have had the opportunity to witness her exceptional growth and performance within our business area.

Ons demonstrates the qualities of a promising entrepreneur and leader. Her innovative mindset is reflected in her ability to identify opportunities and develop creative solutions to complex challenges.

For instance, she designed and conducted a software training program for developers, focusing on energy-efficient coding solutions. This training not only provided greener solutions but also encouraged active debate and discussions among participants, showcasing her ability to foster engaging learning environments.

Ons is also a dedicated and proactive learner who pursues personal and professional growth. Most importantly, Ons' teamwork and communication skills are remarkable. She has a natural ability to connect with people, build strong relationships across departments, and thrive in interdisciplinary teams.

In summary, I am confident that Ons will not only excel in the program but also significantly contribute to its community.

Please feel free to contact me should you require further information.

Sincerely,

Dr. Stoyan Velkov
